For the last 40 years, the words 'Beaujolais Nouveau' have been by equal turns a commercial success and a quality millstone around the neck of Beaujolais. Today, the Beaujolais wine region has been reborn with a new generation of winemakers tempted by low land prices, and a frontier and avant-garde feel to the winemaking process there. Pierre-Marie Chermette at the family-owned Vissoux is one of those new wave stars reimagining the Beaujolais region, and here re-work-
